STANFORD, KY., - APRIL 10, 1894

W. P. WALTON.

6 OR 8 PAGES.
EVERY FRIDAY.

The evidence is all in and the arguments are being made in the Pollard-Breckinridge case. Two speeches are to be made to the side, Calderon Carlisle and Judge Wilson for Miss Pollard, and Ben Butterworth and Little Phil Thompson for Col. Breckinridge. The end is therefore nearly in sight, with a decided prospect for a hung jury. From the start the judge has shown his disgust in the case, and exhibited a feeling for the plaintiff, in which nearly everybody, both men and women who have read the evidence, joins. Whether there is a jury verdict in the case or not, the great public has formed a verdict that Miss Pollard has made out her plea for damages, and that the defendant is a self-confessed libertine and hypocrite, deserving of neither sympathy nor a further bestowal of confidence. Professing himself by his actions to be better than other men, he has been shown to be a wolf in sheep's clothing, and a Janus of the meanest type. Miss Pollard may be, and probably is, a woman as void of conscience as she is of virtue, and as unworthy of consideration as the defendant has tried to show her, yet degraded and deposed as that, she is still an angel in comparison to the hoary headed old sinner, whose crime against his family, against society and against the constituency that has so often and so gladly honored him, is made doubly heinous by the affection of piety with which he surrounded himself, and that air of respectability which he gave his liaison by introducing his concubine into decent society. Both deserve to be banished to oblivion.

THAT fiery, untamed seeker for notoriety, the editor of the Blue Grass Blade, is to be prosecuted for blasphemy and Rev. E. S. Southgate, of the Methodist church Lexington, will procure the indictment. The charge is based on a most disgusting article on the birth of Christ, which is too filthy and blasphemous to bear repetition. Blasphemy is a common law offense and can be punished by any fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the jury or both, so "Charley" has a pretty good chance to look through the bars again. He, however, defies the reverend gentleman and says he "would love to see him try it on."

JUDGE JENKINS, who decided in the Northern Pacific wage cases that its employees have no right to strike, has been completely reversed by Judge Caldwell, of the United States Court at Omaha, in the Union Pacific cases, who holds that "organized labor is organized capital; it is capital consisting of brains and muscle," and that an agreement to which it is a party is binding. Thus do the doctors of the law disagree, and leave us still enquiring "where are we at?"

THE democrats have nominated Paul Sorg, of Middletown, for Congress in the 3rd Ohio district and the race is now made up with Maj. E. H. Rathbone as the republican standard bearer. The election is to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Houk, democrat, who was elected by about 4,000 majority. Much interest is manifested in the result and fears are entertained that since everything in Ohio goes the republicans will overcome even that large majority.

THE Somersett Paragon of last week contains an interesting write up of that thriving little city in the hills, together with cuts of prominent buildings and leading merchants and business men. No town in this section has grown faster in the last decade than Somersett and it is a strong and healthy growth, dependent on no boom, though an effort was made to boom it during the lamentable boom times.

In their efforts to secure suffrage the women are making progress, with a dog fight as to Massachusetts and Iowa. The former rejected the bill to confer municipal suffrage on women, while the latter has passed one giving them the right to vote for town, city and school officers, and on all questions of issuing bonds. Women, with children, have had the right to vote in Kentucky for several years.

MR. A. J. CASEY, editor of the Owensesboro Inquirer, satisfied that man should not live alone and that Paul was only half right when he said that "they that marry do well, but they that marry not better," became a benedict on the 4th, when he led to the altar the beautiful Miss Lida Walker, of Hartford. May long life and an unending honeymoon be theirs.

In fulfillment of his agreement with the republicans who voted with him to prevent the confirmation of Hornblower and others, Senator Hill is voting with them to delay the consideration of the tariff bill. No wonder the Campbellville Times has torn his name and picture from its masthead and no longer advocates him for president.

BEN KING, the Michigan poet and humorist, was found dead in bed at Bowling Green, presumably from heart disease, Friday night. He and Opie Read had given an entertainment there that night and he appeared in the best of spirits and apparently in the best of health. The local press gave a supper in their honor and it is related that when Mr. King found that there were just 13 at the table, he jumped up, and with a frightened expression, declined to sit down again till another person was added to the party. It was thought at the time, however, that he was in jest, but the superstitions, taking that and the fact that he recited his parody on the beautiful poem, "If I should die to-night," are further confirmed in their belief. King was comparatively a young man, being less than 35, and had never shown signs of heart disease before.

The unknown young man, who committed suicide in the Hotel Emery, Cincinnati, Friday night, had a keen sense of humor as well as a penchant for poetry. After treating the matter rather jocosely, he wrote: My reasons for this step which I am about to take is best expressed in the following:

"One's fancies take us forth where many blossoms wave;

But when to-morrow's sun awakes our hopes are buried in the grave."

"Thus 'tis with life. I shall now take my medicine, pull the draperies of my couch about me, and lie down to a sleep of pleasant dreams."

ALL of the World's Fair buildings, except the Art, the Convent La Rabida, the Forestry and two smaller ones, which cost millions of dollars, were sold at auction Saturday for $75,500, and will be demolished at once, and the White City will become only a memory to be cherished forever by the 20,000,000 of people who enjoyed its beauty and the grandest collection of industrial, mechanical exhibits and curiosities ever conceived and carried into successful execution.

THE democrats are gradually coming to the opinion that Speaker Reed's rule for counting a quorum was not so bad after all. Representative Springer proposes a rule that practically endorses him. It provides that the names of those present and not voting shall be entered on the journal as voting in the negative, and if these, with those voting, are a majority of all the members, a quorum shall be deemed as constituted.

THE democratic Waterloo in Rhode Island is even worse than at first reported. The republicans elect the governor by over 8,000 plurality and all of the members of the legislature but five. The republicans are certainly getting their innings this year.

IT is a mighty small loaf, but better than no bread. The democrats actually carried something the other day. It was the little town of Davenport, Ia., where the entire ticket was elected. We are thankful for small favors in these degenerate days.

THE New York World makes the good point: Mr. Breckinridge's defense is weak in one particular. Miss Pollard frequently offered to marry him and repair the great wrong she had inflicted.

MR. WATTERSON is filling an engagement of 25 nights on the Pacific coast and filling his inside pockets with filthy lucre. His "Compromises of Life" draws like a sticking plaster.

NEWSY NOTES.

-Three men were killed and 14 others badly injured by a premature blast of powder at Brinton, Penn.

-During the republican primary in Clay, Friday, Charles Robinson shot and fatally wounded Lee Robinson.

-Charles R. Ferguson, aged 67, for years clerk of Woodford Circuit Court, was kicked to death by a horse.

-Mrs. James Sledd, a partial paralytic, was burned to death in Shelby by her clothing catching fire from the grate.

-The Odd Fellows' Temple, which has just been completed in Cincinnati at a cost of $300,000, will be dedicated May 15.

-In an old Indian burying ground in St. Simon, Ga., the remains of a warrior over eight feet long were excavated recently.

-The citizens of Burgin want to vote on local option and have presented a petition to Judge Hughes asking him to call an election.

-Rev. Clement W. Lewis, a negro preacher, was sentenced at Chattanooga to 28 years' imprisonment for wholesale pension frauds.

-A petition for a caucus of democratic members of the House to consider the tax on State bank issues shows 129 democrats in favor of unconditional repeal of the law.

-The Council has agreed to levy a tax of 13 cents on every $100 worth of property to build a $20,000 public school building—Richmond Register.

-The local council of women from Indianapolis condemn Col. Breckinridge, and express regret that Mrs. Cathbert Bullitt has defended his conduct.

-The banks of Mt. Sterling have signed an agreement to loan no money to, nor to discount any paper having the name of any person who has plead usury.

-An old brick building at Memphis, occupied by negroes, collapsed, killing four persons and injuring five. Two are missing, and are supposed to be under the debris.

-H. G. Trimble has withdrawn from the contest for the republican nomination for county judge in Polaski, leaving W. M. Catron, well known here, as the only candidate.

-The three train robbers, who murdered Conductor McNally at Oliphant, Ark., November 3 last, were hanged at Newport, Ark., Friday. The sheriff did an unusually fine job.

-Bob Jones, a worthless character who had been run off from Hopkins county for cruelty to his wife, returned and killed her and her mother, finishing the job by blowing his own life out.

-The women of Phoenixville, Penn., have petitioned the town council to change the name of Breckinridge street in that town. The women claimed that it was a disgrace to have a street of that name.

-F. B. Freeman, of Somerset, is sorely afflicted. Within a week he lost two children and his wife, who died of measles. A young baby and eight children are left to feel a mother's loss, says the Reporter.

-A white infant two weeks old was found on a locomotive at Elsington, Ill. In the basket in which the little thing was placed were two fine dresses, a flannel skirt, a bottle of milk and a bottle of paragoric.

-An attempt was made to blow up with dynamite, an old negro named Dave Moore at Lawrenceburg. He was to testify on the following day against a lot of illicit whisky sellers, and it is thought that some of them planned the scheme to exterminate him. Moore was not badly hurt.

-At Bourbon, Ind., Joe Kinsley and Ashley Fields made a bet of $2,000 as to who could fast the longest. Fields gave up at the end of the sixth day, but Kinsley was then still fresh and said he could have gone several days longer without great suffering. Fields lost in weight 23 pounds and Kingsley 30.

-Mr. McCrory voted to pass the seigniorage bill over the president's veto. This in Washington is supposed to mean that he intends to enter the race as a candidate for speaker. The silver men will not name the next speaker, but Mr. McCrory seems to think they will name the next senator from Kentucky.—Louisville Post.

-Explosions caused by fire in a fireworks factory at Petersburg, Va., killed 14 men, injured eight others, demolished the factory and started a fire that destroyed several other buildings. Among the dead are several prominent citizens, including John Bland, a tobacco manufacturer, and Chief Farley, of the fire department.

-The master commissioner, of the Franklin Circuit Court, has filed his suit of the Commonwealth against the sureties of ex-Treasurer Tate. The report is considered a victory for the State, though the recovery of any part of the sum claimed by the State depends on the decision of several points of law raised by the report. The State sued for $162,000, but the utmost it can recover under the findings of the commissioner is $74,936.59.

-The war in the Uniontown, Pa., coal region, is ended after several men were killed. The strike is over and ignominious defeat marks its collapse. Within the past few days the rioters from both sections of the coke fields have laid down their arms and gone peacefully to their homes. The movement was a miserable failure and not a point was gained by the men. They are in a worse condition now than before, as the companies are starting their works with English-speaking workmen to the exclusion of the foreign element.

-A 50-foot whale was caught near Amazansct, L. I.

-Three men were killed by the burst of a boiler at Spencer, Ind.

-Last week saw the inauguration of 31 strikes involving 40,000 workingmen.

-A petition for a caucus of democratic members of the House to consider the tax on State bank issues shows 129 democrats in favor of unconditional repeal of the law.

HORSE SHOW DAY.

The stagnation in the horse market, the rainy day and other drawbacks combined to make yesterday's display of stallions and jacks much below the average in point of number, though there were some fine ones on hand. A large crowd saw them perform, the lower end of Main street having been granted for the purpose.

Eagle Bird, E. P. Wood's premium saddle stallion, was the subject of much favorable comment. He has all of the qualities that go to make a fine saddle horse, together with a most excellent pedigree.

J. K. Baughman's William L. was shown by that splendid rider, Silas Sandridge, and made a fine impression. Nothing but his color (gray) can be urged against William L.

W. S. Garner exhibited his saddle stallion, Brignola, and won for that horse many complimentary mentions. Sam Cochran has a splendid horse in Denmark Chief, notwithstanding he stands him at the low price of $5. He is by Hutchinson Chief, dam by Sen.

Beazley Bros. & Hays, who last year won the third tie in the $300 purse at Danville with him, have Silver Tip in splendid shape. Nels Rowland's handling last year did him lots of good, and he is now one of the best saddlers in the country.

J. S. Hughes showed Pat, a 3-year-old by Ed. Kimble.

Jesse Cook's Dillard Denmark, by Double Denmark, was greatly admired. He is a good saddler and a very fancy horse. Dillard Denmark is the grandson of the great sire, Montrose.

A. M. Pence's Pence was one of the popular horses of the day. Mr. Pence did the right thing by bringing him back to his old home to make the present season.

Jim Blaine, a grandson of Garrard Chief, was shown by his owner, A. B. Coppage, of Marion.

M. S. Baughman's George Dictator, was looking fine, as was his saddle, Le Grand. The former is by the great sire Dictator 113, and the latter by Mambino Le Grand. A handsomer pair of horses or a better bred pair would be hard to find.

Logic 917, by Stonewall Jackson, and an extra fine 3-year-old, was exhibited by A. E. Hundley. He is a beautiful sorrel and a splendid mover.

Sidney Dunbar had his fine stallion, Morgan Denmark, in splendid trim and with him won additional laurels for his great sire, On Time. A splendid young horse with a good pedigree on both sides is Morgan Denmark.

A. H. Smith's Quinine S., 2:284, full brother to Geneva S., 2:194, and Matie H., 2:114, trial 2:09, was a very popular horse. He is a fine individual and a very speedy fellow.

Took Hubble would not have been satisfied had he not had several jacks around him. He showed Joe Blackburn, the old Levi Hubble jack that brought $1,860 under the hammer, and a son of his, Joe Blackburn, Jr. They are indeed a fine pair, and Mr. Hubble had a right to feel proud of them.

Gamoer, by Gambetta Wilkes, owned by Cook, Carr & Co., is not as good an individual as some of them, but few horses have better breeding or more speed.

Dick Evans showed Lighthead, a good looking, big stallion.

The Underwood Brothers had a good string, consisting of their splendid saddle, Chaney Denmark, and two jacks, Tom Curtis and Bourbon Chief. They had a big season last year and will no doubt do likewise this year.

S. T. Harris' Onward Messenger is an unusually fine individual, and is truly a horse with a pedigree. Mr. Harris will probably put him in training after the season is over.

The splendid Hackney Imp. Countaght, owned by the Lincoln County Horse Co., will make the season at A. F. Moberly's. The Hackney is a rather new breed in this section, but Countaght is such a fine specimen, he will no doubt make a big season.

The following well-known stallions were conspicuous for their absence: Madison Sandridge & Son's Gilt Edge, J. Steele Carpenter's Wallace Denmark and Lexel, J. K. Baughman's Naboth and Capt. B. F. Powell's English Hunter, but they will show up in this paper.

Morgan Denmark.

Morgan Denmark is a bay stallion, 15 1/2 hands high. He is splendidly bred as a glance at his pedigree will show. He will make the season of 1894 at my stable on the Danville & Lancaster pike, 1 1/2 miles North of Hubble.

At $10 to Insure a Living Colt. Care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible. Morgan Denmark was foaled in 1889. He is by On Time, by Stonewall Jackson, 1st dam, Lucy Morgan, by Stonewall Jackson, 2nd dam, by Virginia, 3rd dam by Matchless, 4th dam by Trausby.

Morgan Denmark is one of the best bred saddle stallions in Kentucky. Has good mane and tail and good, long, rangy neck. Don't fail to MISS SALLIE GREEN, who has been on a visit to Danville for several months, returned to her home near Crab Orchard, Friday.

DR. JOHN M. WILLIAMS left a few days since to take a position as surgeon on the Iron Mountain Railroad.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

MR. J. W. NORTH is our Hustonville reporter now and we hope the West Enders will give him all the news they get hold of.

MRS. JERRY SMITH, of Jellico, accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Barker, arrived yesterday and are the guest of Mrs. R. B. McKinney.

MRS. NANNIE OWENS and Mrs. M. F. Bradley returned from Calera, Ala., Friday, where they have been enjoying spring time all winter.

MR. J. D. HOLDEN is the I. J.'s master mechanic now. He put its recalcitrant engine in good humor, in short order and good style the other day.

MRS. LIZZIE DILLION and pretty daughter, Miss Nellie, of Lancaster, who were guests of Mrs. Mattie Nevin, paid this office a pleasant call Saturday. Mrs. Nevin accompanied them.

MRS. GUS. HOFMANN, and Misses Jean and Maggie Buchanan, of Crab Orchard, joined Miss Evelyn Buchanan at Mrs. Judge Burch's Friday and all went to Danville shopping Saturday.

A FAIRLY good picture of Miss Annie Dishman, of Barboursville, appeared in Saturday's Louisville Times. Miss Dishman, it will be remembered, attended college here several years ago, and was then a fascinating young lady.

COL. W. O. BRADLEY telegraphed Hon. W. H. Miller Sunday to come to Somerset and help him select a jury from the Lincoln county men summoned for examination in the Cope and Doolin murder case, and he left on the noon train.

CITY AND VICINITY.

FRESH line of Zeigler shoes at S. H. Shanks'.

New crepe moire at 12½ cents. Severance &amp; Son.

Go to Mrs. Steele Bailey and see her lovely flowers.

MES. BENDER will deliver a free lecture to ladies only at Lancaster, Wednesday afternoon.

Some hungry thief stole an old ham out of Dr. J. K. Van Arsdale's pantry the other evening.

An early call at Mrs. Duddar's for dress-making will avoid the rush. Come at once. Miss Cunningham.

THREE good draft horses, six-year-old and weighing about 1,400 pounds, for sale or trade. Higgins &amp; Watt.

DANKS, the Jeweler, is the "the article."

TAKE your repairs to Danks, the Jeweler.

SEE our gent's ties at 25 cents. Severance &amp; Son.

FLOWER crocks, all sizes and cheap at McKinney &amp; Hocker's.

SILVER jewelry is the thing to wear. We have the latest styles. Danks, the Jeweler.

DON't read this unless you want one of the many bargains. Danks, the Jeweler, is offering.

THERE are 30 odd bicycles in use here and the two dealers at this place are still disposing of them.

WE are leaders in footwear; can save you from 25 to 33 per cent. from regular prices. B. F. Jones &amp; Son.

R. ZIMMER, in his regular advertisement this morning, corrects the report that he was going to leave Stanford.

FIFTY citizens of the West End were summoned to go to Somerset yesterday to serve as jurors in the case of Doolin and Cope for killing Deputy Sheriff Watson, a couple of years ago.

MR. J. L. ROSE, late of Junction City, is opening up a full line of drugs, druggist sundries, &amp;c., at Shelby City, where his friends predict he will do well.

THE daily papers say that there are a lot of $20 counterfeit notes in circulation, but as bills of that denomination are so scarce in this section our people are not losing any sleep over the matter.

THE negro, Jim Evans, who stole E. P. Woods' family mare and sold her for $5.50, waived an examination and was held to circuit court in $500 bond. He is good for at least a year for every dollar he sold the old mare for.

QUICK TIME.—W. H. Wearen and Jim Burton left here at 1:05 Friday and rode wheels to Lancaster in 43 minutes from court-house to court-house. They remained over there an hour or two and were back here by 3:40, making the return trip in 37 minutes.

FIRE.—Mr. Chris G. Lyons' fine barn in the West End, was destroyed by fire Saturday, together with a lot of feed, farming implements and two fine horses. His dwelling caught from the sparks but was saved by hard work. It is not known how the fire originated.

AL HUTCHINGS, the well-known reinman of Danville, had his left leg badly hurt while driving at that place the other day. One of the lines broke and the horse he was driving started to run. Mr. Hutchings jumped from the sulky and received the injury above stated.

THE lecture of Col. Copeland on the 24th ought to draw a crowded house, as he is said to be one of the finest speakers on the lecture platform. Up to this time the association is about $15 each "in the hole" and it will take a hundred dollar house to let them out even.

ALL KILLED.—Squire J. S. Murphy, after a careful investigation, says that the fruit, all the oats that were up and half the clover were killed by the late freeze. He states that at the lowest calculation the county has lost $10,000. The acreage prepared for corn is larger than ever before.

THE fourth and last Magisterial precinct, Waynesburg, will vote on prohibition June 9th. Messrs. J. M. Cook, W. L. McCarty and E. B. Caldwell, Jr., presented a petition signed by over 40 per cent of the voters of the precinct yesterday and Judge Varnon ordered the election accordingly.

THE OWNERS of the property, Messrs. Farris &amp; Hardin, have taken charge of the hotel vacated by Mr. Joe Coffey and will run it themselves. Both families have moved to it and they intend to keep hotel which will be a credit to the town. It will hereafter be known by its former name—"St. Asaph."

THE seventh annual inter-collegiate oratorical contest held at Lexington, was won by Enoch Grehan, representing the Kentucky University, subject "By Their Fruits Ye Shall Know Them," with W. M. Jackson, of Central University, a close second. Of the contests held so far Centre College, Danville, has won four, Kentucky University, two, and Georgetown College, one. This is the first time for several years that the State College has put up a man.

A YOUNG LADY, who recently attended a hop at the Lakeland Lunatic Asylum, says that she was dancing with a young inmate of the institution and the night being warm and the room close they both got considerably "overheated" and perspired freely. In order to be agreeable she remarked that it was exceedingly warm. "I am about to have a chill" answered the inmate as he shuddered with an "ough." Seeing she had made a mistake and having been told that she must agree with everything the unfortunates said, she responded quickly: "It is really chilly to-night," while she sent up a little petition for the Lord to forgive her for such a fib. This reminds us to say that there is a young lady in town who would suit exactly for such a dilemma. She is the most agreeable person we have ever seen, having been known to to agree to five almost opposite remarks about the weather in a short conversation. Somebody is missing a mighty good wife.

MES. BENDER will deliver a free lecture to ladies only at Lancaster, Wednesday afternoon.

Some hungry thief stole an old ham out of Dr. J. K. Van Arsdale's pantry the other evening.

An early call at Mrs. Duddar's for dress-making will avoid the rush. Come at once. Miss Cunningham.

THREE good draft horses, six-year-old and weighing about 1,400 pounds, for sale or trade. Higgins &amp; Watt.

THREE rooms for rent in Odd Fellows' building—Old Commercial. Apply to A. C. Sine.

GENUINE John B. Stetson $5.00 hat at $2.48, only one to a customer. B. F. Jones &amp; Son.

THE Ray L. Royce Entertainers, a musical and humorous troupe of much merit, will hold the boards here on the night of May 2.

GEORGE TUCKER's wife presented him with a fine boy Saturday night. This is the first boy that has been born on Hawkins' branch in four years.

THE postmaster-general settled the Nicholasville post-office question by naming J. B. Smither, who was promptly confirmed by the Senate yesterday.

THE election for directors of the Crab Orchard and Danville turnpike Saturday resulted in Mr. F. T. Logan being elected in place of Hon. G. A. Lackey. The other directors are J. S. Bosley, J. W. Guest, J. H. McAlister, John Bright and J. S. Owsley. State Inspector W. H. Gardner was here and voted the State's stock.

THERE will be a swell wedding in the colored circles to-morrow night. Mrs. Anne Givens, widow of the late Rev. Harrison Givens, will be joined in wedlock's holy bond to Rev. Patterson, a Baptist preacher of Louisville.

THE weather has been chilly and rainy for several days. Yesterday was a very nasty day for the court visitors, but they were here in great numbers. "Fair, colder Tuesday," is the prediction for to-day.

WE have just received another lot of sample shoes and slippers, button and lace, black, tan and colored, worth $3 and $4; will be sold at $1.98. Sizes 2 to 5, A. B. C. D. E. &amp; E. E. last. B. F. Jones &amp; Son.

WE are leaders in hats. Over 800 sample hats just received. We have all the latest styles and shapes in both soft an stiff and will sell at less than manufacturer's prices. This is your chance for a bargain. B. F. Jones &amp; Son.

THE birthdays of Henry Clay, Hon. J. B. Paxton, the writer and some other great men were on April 12. Mr. Clay doesn't take much interest in such matters now, the writer thinks the less said about the matter the better, but Mr. Paxton is married and don't care. He will, therefore, celebrate his anniversary in due and ancient form.

THE city council at its last meeting very properly extended the time for the payment of taxes without the penalty till June 1. An effort was made to get Mayor S. G. Hocker to remit the fine of $2 assessed against Dr. Van Arsdale for refusing to sit down when ordered to do so, but without avail, so a resolution disapproving of the fine and the mayor's action was introduced by Councilman J. S. Hughes and passed by a vote of 3 to 1.

THE lecture of Col. Copeland on the 24th ought to draw a crowded house, as he is said to be one of the finest speakers on the lecture platform. Up to this time the association is about $15 each "in the hole" and it will take a hundred dollar house to let them out even.

J. S. McWILLIAMS, who used to be a merchant at O. K. this county, was sent to the penitentiary for one year by the Pulaski court, we learn from the Reporter. He was found guilty of maliciously shooting a child of W. H. Gooch. He went to his house at night and fired into it, striking the child. McWilliams with but little to start on, has been going from bad to worse for some time. The first rascal business that we knew him guilty of was to get money here on his check on a Somerset bank, where he had no money. He however, refunded the amount on being threatened with prosecution.

Buy a Cooley Creamer at Farris &amp; Hardin's.

INTENDING purchasers can find no larger variety of goods or lower prices than at Danks', the jeweler.

If you haven't paid your 1893 account at McKinney Bros', please do so at once. We must have our business settled up.

JOHN B. SMITH asks us to correct the report that he kept several parties from voting at the recent election at Turnersville. He says there is no earthly grounds for such a report.

An application for an election on the whisky question in Rowland will be heard before Judge Varnon this morning, it being claimed that the new law gives incorporated towns the right to hold such election regardless of the district.

THE election for directors of the Crab Orchard and Danville turnpike Saturday resulted in Mr. F. T. Logan being elected in place of Hon. G. A. Lackey. The other directors are J. S. Bosley, J. W. Guest, J. H. McAlister, John Bright and J. S. Owsley. State Inspector W. H. Gardner was here and voted the State's stock.

THERE will be a swell wedding in the colored circles to-morrow night. Mrs. Anne Givens, widow of the late Rev. Harrison Givens, will be joined in wedlock's holy bond to Rev. Patterson, a Baptist preacher of Louisville.

THE weather has been chilly and rainy for several days. Yesterday was a very nasty day for the court visitors, but they were here in great numbers. "Fair, colder Tuesday," is the prediction for to-day.
